

Rehabilitation of the Edentulous Patient

COURSE PREPARATION MATERIALS

Course Introduction

Rehabilitation of the Edentulous and Partially Edentulous Patient

This three-day educational activity will demonstrate full and partial denture fabrication. It will provide you with the information and skills to treat more complex cases than you may have experienced prior to this class, with renewed confidence. In this course the use of the Myomonitor and K7 will be demonstrated to simplify full and partial denture fabrication. It will give you the information and skills to provide the most comprehensive care for your edentulous patients. This program will clearly identify the LVI Global neuromuscular perspective of beautiful form following excellent function. Although there are over 20 million edentulous patients in the U.S., this is often a neglected area of dental service. The course includes a clinical demonstration of every detail of full and partial denture fabrication - from initial exam and diagnosis to denture delivery and adjustment. The instructors will demonstrate the skills and knowledge to successfully and predictably deliver a premium prosthetic service.

The following course topics will be addressed:

- How to get patient expectation and reality together before starting the case
- How to make lower dentures that never “float” and upper dentures that never “drop”
- Neuromuscular bites that eliminate denture “shift”
- Partials that are comfortable and preserve abutment teeth
- Secrets of full, beautiful denture smiles.
- Preliminary impression techniques and custom neuromuscular tray fabrication
- Simplified two stage Myomonitor edentulous impressions for optimal extension and retention
- Retention secrets of lower lingual flange extension, dispelling the myths of dental school dentures
- Impression “tricks” to manage difficult retention and fit problems
- How to make the muscles work for you for maximum denture retention
- Myomonitor bite registration techniques
- K7 denture bite registration techniques
- Four easy, logical steps of neuromuscular denture delivery to minimize post delivery adjustments
- Secrets to partial design: clasp and attachment design. Keep it simple!
- Neuromuscular impression techniques for partial dentures
- Full and partial denture neuromuscular intra-oral reline techniques
- 101 “prosthetic tricks”, there is a solution to almost every prosthetic problem

Course Supplies

Please bring with you to the course:

- A dental cast of your own mouth as well as that of an edentulous patient with a Tens bite registration. These models should already be poured up beforehand, as time will not allow for this to be done during the course.
- A cast and case history from your practice.

Demonstration Patients

In order to provide the best learning experience for all attendees, LVI is accepting cases to be considered for demonstration surgeries to be performed by the Clinical Instructor. If you have a patient of record that requires full and/or partial dentures, and would like them to be considered as a demonstration patient, please submit a short description of the treatment plan, panorex, and/or radiograph via email to either our Clinical Director, Dr. Mark Duncan (mduncan@lviglobal.com) or Clinical Affairs Manager, Minette Boquiren (minette@lviglobal.com). Should your case be approved, you will be contacted with further details.
